The launch of Mukul Deva's latest book at a prominent bookstore in the city proved to be a rocking affair for all the bibliophiles. And for the veteran author himself, it was quite a memorable affair as he was visiting his hometown after a long gap of 30 years. The compere of the evening Ishita B Garg looked elegant in an orange sari. The crowd seemed genuinely interested in hearing excerpts and the facts about the book from the author.

We witnessed several ardent listeners like Mukesh and Saloni Sharma and Mala Mehra. Interestingly, Zahur Zaidi's crew-cut got him all the attention. Jayant Krishna was sporting a striped purple tie. We saw several ex Martinians at the do. The author himself is an ex-student of the prestigious school. Host Gaurav Prakash was elated at the overwhelming response to the event. In the end, the humble author autographed the copies of the books picked up by the guests.
